

Join Us in Saving Lives — Globally

Position: Fundraising Director

Location: UK, Australia, or Europe | Global Scope | Permanent Role

Organisation: Lifeline International

Why This Role Matters

This isn't just another fundraising job.

It's a chance to shape the future of suicide prevention and crisis support worldwide.

LifeLine International is a globally recognised and deeply respected organisation supporting a network of 35 Members across 27 countries, operating crisis helplines and digital support services that offer hope and connection in life's darkest moments. Our collective impact is immense — but we're just getting started.

The Fundraising Director will report directly to the CEO who is based in Australia and work alongside committed colleagues and international partners, developing new revenue streams and bringing your creative energy and can-do fundraising mindset to respected global brand and a cause that truly matters.

What You'll Do

- Design and lead high-impact, multi-channel fundraising strategies
- Cultivate relationships with philanthropists, donors, and partners
- Identify and grow innovative, values-aligned revenue opportunities
- Champion a donor-centric, ethical, and inclusive fundraising culture
- Monitor ROI and optimise for long-term, sustainable impact

What You Bring

- 5+ years of fundraising experience (international or cross-cultural preferred)
- Proven success in growing revenue and meeting ambitious targets
- Expertise in major giving, partnerships, and digital campaigns
- Strong relationship-building and stakeholder management skills
- A deep passion for making a tangible difference in people's lives

What You'll Get

- A meaningful role with global impact
- A flexible, supportive, and purpose-driven work environment
- Direct contribution to suicide prevention and mental health support
- Opportunities to collaborate with inspiring leaders and changemakers

If you are bold, keen for a role that challenges your strategic mind and ready to make a global impact — we want to hear from you.
